Bo—we are updating website now, made slight change to how we reference additional info by linking to the press release, which links to the PDF of the state investigation document, and not the PDF document directly. Seems more user friendly. Let me know if you have

EPA has announced that it will be supporting the State of Wyoming in its further investigation of drinking water quality in the rural area east of Pavillion, Wyoming. While EPA stands behind its work and data, the agency recognizes the State of Wyoming's commitment to further investigation and efforts to provide clean water and does not plan to finalize or seek peer review of its draft Pavillion groundwater report released in December 2011.

The sampling data obtained throughout EPA's groundwater investigation will be considered in Wyoming's further investigation, and EPA will have the opportunity to provide input to the State of Wyoming and recommend third-party experts for the State's consideration. The State intends to conclude its investigation and release a final report by September 30, 2014. Press release.
